Dear Commissioner Henney:

I believe that irradiated foods need to carry a prominent disclosure, in easy to read type, on the front of the package. There also should be a method for identifying them in restaurants. It is not fair to consumers if they cannot identify irradiated foods. Please do all in your power to see that these identifications are made.

In addition, I am calling upon you TO BAN THE USE OF ANTIBIOTICS IN ANIMAL FEED. Perhaps when this use was begun, people did not realize that adding antibiotics to feed in order to promote growth can make bacteria resistant to those antibiotics. With such resistance, there is no way to treat life-threatening bacterial infections in humans. Now that this important finding has been conclusively established, it is inexcusable to continue putting antibiotics in animal feed.

I definitely support the petition filed by Center for Science in the Public Interest.

Sincerely yours,

Helen Jo Williams
